

Latex-Free Professional Resistance Bands Fact Sheet

General Description

Latex-Free, Compromise-Free

Many patients who react to certain proteins found in natural rubber latex, as well as many facilities with no-latex policies, have been forced to avoid latex bands. Unfortunately, most latex-free elastic resistance bands are viewed as necessary but inferior alternatives.

You won't view the improved Thera-Band® Latex-Free Professional Resistance Bands as alternatives. Instead, you'll find the recently reformulated product is a high-quality complement to our elastic resistance product line.

These latex-free bands provide the same quality and trusted resistance progression of our natural latex bands, without the potential for causing a latex allergy reaction. They are the only latex-free bands that match the pull forces of our latex bands, stretch like latex, and follow the Thera-Band color-coded System of Progressive Exercise. Also, they don't have a scent and don't include powder. Together with our latex bands, they form one system that meets all patient needs.

The improved Thera-Band® Latex-Free Professional Resistance Bands are now also available in 50 yard rolls -- a perfect fit for high-volume, no-latex facilities looking for greater convenience and economy. They are also offered in 25 yard rolls and two Patient Packs (Beginner and Advanced) which facilitate progressing patients through a Home Exercise Program.
